Easter Worshippers to Gather on Cerrito Hill

Inspiring Program Will Be Held Here by Churches

As the early rays of the sun strike the summit of Cerrito Hill on Sunday morning, they will illuminate a scene in which several hundred persons of the community are gathered to honor the resurrected Savior at the third annual Easter Sunrise Service.

Shortly after 7 o'clock those present will join in a hymn to be directed by David Taylor of the Albany Baptist Church. This vocal offering will be preceded by an organ prelude by Ralph Bowden.

Rev. Marvin Stuart of the El Cerrito Community Church will present a scripture reading, following which Rev. Herbert Brooke of the Albany Community Church will lead the assembled worshippers in prayer.

The sermon of the morning, "Life's Revelations," will be given by Dr. John W. Bailey of the Berkeley Baptist Divinity School.

IS JOINT SERVICE
Chairman of the service is Rev. W. Floyd Alexander of the Albany Baptist Church. The three ministers of the cooperating local churches have arranged the annual union service.

A huge shining cross, lighted through the joint efforts of the local fire department and the Albany Chamber of Commerce, has sent its luminous message of hope renewed for many miles across the skies of the East Bay during the week, to remind all that the day of His arising is soon to be celebrated.

Members of the Albany Y.M.C.A. first aid team are to be stationed on the hill during the services, says C. E. Morris of that organization, to assist in the comfort of those who assemble for the early services.

Albany Scouts Visit Capital

An East Bay Ceremonial team composed of Scouts from Albany and Oakland drove to Sacramento Saturday night where they initiated a class of 27.

The beautiful Masonic Temple of the capital city was the scene of this ritualistic work and after the ceremonies, special entertainment was put on for the visitors. Women members of the party were entertained at a second hall provided by the Sacramento Scouts.

Scouts from Albany, Richmond, Berkeley and Oakland were present. This Scout team enjoys the distinction of being one of the finest aggregation of its kind in northern California, and is in demand for ritualistic work.

Stolen Car Is Left in Oakland

A new sedan with but 1000 miles on the speedometer, stolen here last Saturday, was recovered in Oakland, Tuesday, according to Police Chief John Glavinovich. The car was stolen at Dartmouth Street and San Pablo Avenue, the chief reported.

Used as a demonstrator by M. A. Young of 722 Camelia Street, Berkeley, the car was parked at that place when it was taken. Young is an auto salesman in Berkeley.

Comic Wedding Is Presented By Local Club

At a gay party, "Miss Ophelia Sourpus" became the bride of "Mr. Hiram Letergo" at a mock wedding solemnized by Rev. Fiddle Dee Dee before a circle of close friends and Native Daughters Wednesday evening at the Macabee Temple. The bride was attractively attired in white with a tissue paper veil and carried a shower bouquet of spinach.

Let the staid citizenry become aroused and demand more stringent blue laws from the city council let it be added that it was all in fun and to be taken no more seriously than any sham wedding.

Mrs. Hazlette Taylor was cast as the blushing bride; Mrs. Lena Lawrence as the preacher; Mrs. Nelly Graham as the bride's irate father, and Mrs. Eva Peterson as the reluctant bridegroom.

This comedy act was followed by the "Ballon Dance," enacted by Slim Thorogood and Bob Barrett, arrayed in red flannel union suits and ballet slippers respectively. Frank Kline with his violin endeavored to get them in the mood of spring dancers.

The entertainment wound up with a shower given in honor of Miss Grace Higgins whose engagement to Nathan Garfinkle was recently announced.

Many lovely gifts of linen as well as a set of delish blue kitchenware was presented to the honoree.

Also present were Mrs. Margaret Cannon, Mrs. Laura Isom, Mrs. Ha-elton, Mrs. Grace Higgins, Mrs. Lena Lawrence, Mrs. Marie Vargas, Mrs. Eva Peterson, Mrs. Nelly Graham, Mrs. Florence Bell, Mrs. Hazlette Taylor, Mrs. Mae Rutan, Mrs. Ruth Bacigalupi and the Misses Althea Hart, Betty Staples and Jane Reid.

The new members will be initiated into the N. D. G. W. Parlor at the next meeting. They are Mrs. Agnes Madison, Mrs. Esther Palmert and Mrs. Norveta Ault.

Government dairy experts in this country have developed a way of making the new European cheese known abroad as Bel Paese.

Cerrito Cross Beckons

Vividly symbolizing the annual Sunrise Service on Cerrito Hill Easter morning is this creation of Vernon Smith, arts and crafts director of the Albany Recreation Department. This is an excellent example of the linoleum block work which is being done under the general supervision of Supervisor Thomas L. Farnsworth.

April Meeting Couple Will Is Scheduled Wed Tomorrow

The April meeting of the Cornell Parent-Teacher Association will be held on Thursday, April 1, at 2:40 in the school auditorium. At this meeting, Mrs. Charles B. Lyon will announce the chairman and committees which she has appointed to serve during the coming year.

Mrs. Al Magazin, the new program chairman, announces that the program will be on "The Exceptional Child." Mrs. Cave will talk on "A Home Teacher's Day," there will be a talk on speech correction, and music under the direction of Armin Wagner.

Inaugurating a new practice of having a different board member serve as hostess each month, tea will be served under the direction of Mrs. A. E. Oakley.

Mrs. Lyon, president of the Cornell P.T.A., has appointed the following to serve as delegates to the convention of the Sixteenth District of the California Congress of Parents and Teachers which will be held in Richmond on March 29 and 30: Mrs. W. A. Duro, Mrs. Al Magazin, Mrs. Lee R. Hudson, with Mrs. John Brunstein, Mrs. A. E. Oakley, and Mrs. F. B. Kline as alternates.

Kenneth Glines, school principal, will be a guest of the unit at the life membership luncheon to be held on the first day of the convention.

POST SMOKER SETS RECORD

With their annual Smoker last Friday night a matter of history, members of Albany Post of the American Legion are receiving congratulations on the outstanding success which attended its presentation.

Members from Posts all over the state were present to enjoy the offering and helped to set an attendance record of nearly 900 persons at this year's affair, according to Walker Lyon, general chairman.

The specialty acts which were presented through the cooperation of East Bay and local business firms, were well received, Lyon declared, also announcing that he wished to express his own thanks as well as that of the Post for the aid which was given to make the event one to be long remembered.

Gives Dinner For Players

"There's nothing I like better than a good clean fight," testified Gerald Murphy, local Chevrolet dealer, last night as he greeted the members of his championship-winning basketball team at a banquet at Louis Griffing's Brite Spot dining room.

Paying a tribute to the sportsmanship and prowess of his men, the motor dealer announced that he would gladly sponsor them during the next basketball season if they would consider the formation of a team. "Let's put Albany on the map," was his first consideration as he spoke of plans for the future. He announced his willingness to sponsor a team for any sport that would truly represent the city.

The delicious meal was served by Mrs. L. Griffing and her daughter, Ruth, and was duly appreciated by the men present. Members of the team who attended were Edge Farnsworth, John Justino, Fred Winkenbach, Clyde Hartman, Vic Strub, Leonard Schmidt, Frank Cayting and Lowell Brunstein, mascot. Manager Bill Winkenbach acted as master of ceremonies and introduced the speakers.

Other guests included Phil Rolfe of the Berkeley Gazette and John McCann of the Albany Times.

P.T.A. Offers Alaska Film On Thursday

A journey to within 300 miles of the North Pole is in prospect via moving pictures for all who attend the program which is sponsored by the Marin P.T.A. on Thursday night, April 1, at the school auditorium. Captain G. Clements, famous arctic explorer, will tell of his adventures in the scenes which appear on the screen.

Another feature of this unusual program will be the appearance of Monty, the Alaskan dog who has been seen in a number of Hollywood productions. A Mickey Rat "live circus" is also to be shown, with kittens, rabbits and rats going through their acts and acrobatics.

Arctic animals which appear in profusion in this film have caused the production to be awarded seven international gold medals, Captain Clements reveals, including recognition by the National Geographical Society as "the greatest marine animal picture which has ever been screened."

Seals, walrus, caribou and many other wild creatures are shown in their natural habitat in this film which graphically portrays a 12,000 mile tour through the Arctic, Alaska and Siberia.

Many dangers were encountered in the filming of this exciting picture, as the photographers took scenes which have never before been shown, it is said.

The presentation will begin at 7:30 p. m., those in charge have announced. Tickets, costing 25 cents, may be secured from members of the Marin Parent Teacher Association.

Local Woman on Tour of World

Rome, Italy, was the postmark on the latest communication received from Mrs. Catherine Hampton by Mrs. A. F. Roblin of 800 Kains Avenue.

Mrs. Hampton whose residence is 806 Madison Street, left some time ago with a party of members of the Rosicrucian Society and during the interim has visited Cairo, Egypt, and many other places of historical interest.

Before returning in June she is planning to include London and Paris in her itinerary.

SAN JOSE OKEHS PINBALL GAMES

Believing that this item is of special interest here, the following is reprinted in its entirety from Wednesday morning's Examiner:

"Before a packed meeting that boomed and cheered, the city council today approved the ordinance licensing pinball machines in the face of a ruling by City Attorney Archie Bowden that the games are not legal. The action came after two months indecision.

Over the protests of the County Christian Endeavor, the Pomona Grange and several church organizations the council tabled a motion to declare the games in violation of the state anti-gambling laws.

Trio Barely Escape Death Last Sunday

A narrow escape from death by asphyxiation was recorded for an Albany family of three Sunday morning.

Those fortunately saved were Mr. and Mrs. Fred D. Addleman and their six-year-old daughter, Sarah Jane, of 667 Ventura Avenue. All were resuscitated by the efforts of local firemen.

First notice of the family's peril was received when a next-door neighbor, Mrs. Charles Garrels of 965 Ventura Avenue, noticed Mrs. Addleman weakly motioning to her from the rear of her home. The woman entered the house to find the trio unconscious and called Dr. Hugh Penland of Berkeley.

The doctor immediately diagnosed the trouble as being caused by carbon monoxide fumes, on seeing a pet canary lying in the bottom of its cage. Prompt response of the fire department with its inhalator equipment was credited with reviving the trio after more than an hour's work.

MAKE INVESTIGATION
Investigation by Fire Chief Carl Ahlgren and Assistant Chief John Riley showed that a vent in the furnace had been displaced, allowing the fumes to enter the living quarters through a nearby laundry chute.

Questioned the following day, Mrs. Addleman said that she had been feeling ill for a week previous to Sunday's experience, but thought she had probably eaten tainted food and was suffering from ptomaine poisoning. Little Sarah Jane, too, had been complaining of headaches, but the windows had always been open which undoubtedly caused the poisonous vapors to dissipate without lethal effect.

"I had noticed that the canary was rather droopy," Mrs. Addleman said, "but knew that it was molting and didn't think any more about it."

FUMES AWAKEN CHILD
Sunday morning being rather stormy, her husband closed all the windows in the house after being awakened shortly after six o'clock by the little girl who complained that she was unable to sleep. She then came into his bedroom and played with her doll which had been secured for her.

Shortly thereafter Addleman got up to secure a Sunday paper from the newsboy who brought it to the door, and returned to his room. He later rose, dressed and went outside to clean out a gutter which had become choked with debris.

On his return his wife asked him to prepare some orange juice and he was engaged at his task when she heard him fall to the floor.

She managed to drag him to a bed and left to look for their child whom she found writhing and gasping in the bedroom. Making her way to the telephone, she lifted the receiver but was overcome before she could speak.

On coming to a few moments later, she crawled dizzily to the rear of the house where her rapidly weakening gestures were seen by Mrs. Garrels. Although it was at first thought that the recent earthquake might have dislodged the furnace vent, Mrs. Addleman now declares that children playing in the basement might have done it.

The mother and daughter, who both suffered the worst in the harrowing experience, have been ordered to remain inside the house by Dr. Penland.

Don's Market Celebrates First Birthday

Celebrating a year of progress, Don's Market is this week-end holding a festival of goodwill in honor of its first anniversary and is offering its patrons many inducements to share in the occasion.

Since its opening a year ago this market, whose slogan "the most modern market in Albany," has come to be a household phrase in the community, has continually presented to its friends and customers the highest grades of better merchandise at prices which have been as low as possible to maintain the quality which has always been offered.

Don Accornero, the young proprietor, has become well known for his willingness to supply his patrons with the best of food supplies at prices that were economical. His complete stock of familiar brands is recognized by many Albany shoppers as a convenient source of supply.

Before the huge market was opened Accornero consulted a number of experts to determine the ideal arrangement for a food center of this type. His main idea, he revealed at that time, was to provide a place where the busy shopper could make a selection with the greatest convenience.

DON ACCORNERO

The increasing number of buyers at this market testifies to the success of that plan.

In addition to the large grocery selection which is handily arranged for the buying public, Don's Market also offers a number of other complete departments, truly providing a one-stop food market.

The recently enlarged vegetable department is always stocked with a tempting array of produce and fruit. Courteous clerks stand ready to assist the purchaser at all times.

Also offered for the convenience of his patrons is the varied line of delicatessen products which are displayed in immaculate refrigerated showcases.

A line of the better known liquors and beer is another feature of the market which is proving to be the ideal store for Albany's shoppers. Quality wines are carried, either in bulk or in the barrel at prices which have caused their popularity to steadily increase.

The meat department of the market is under the management of John Bonvicino who, with several years of experience, is well qualified to offer his patrons a full line of merchandise.

Rapid, courteous delivery service is another reason why the patrons of this growing market are telling their friends about their increasing satisfaction at finding a suitable store at which to shop.

THE PRICE

(Golden Gate Bridge Disaster)

For every law of nature
Man plans . . . and defies . . .
There's always retribution
Nature demands her price!

Try though he will to thwart her
With folded arms she stands . . .

And waits . . .

And laughs at all his scheming
Until on a destined day

She shatters his dreaming,
Rudely,

And mockingly seems to say,

"Man have you forgotten . . . ?
This is your Judgment Day!
Today is the Day I've chosen
Ten lives is my price . . .
Now Pay!"

Again and again it will happen
Yet . . . defiant he always stands
Ever he goes on . . . dreaming . . .
Seeking to thwart her demands.

Professor in Talk Before Church Group

Activities and growth of Concordia College were outlined in an interesting lecture delivered by Prof. A. H. Wessling before the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies Aid of Grace Lutheran Church recently.

During the session, which was opened with an invocation and scripture reading by Reverend O. R. Janke, it was proposed that Mrs. Fred Dusen be admitted as a new member, and decided that she will be initiated into the society next month.

After the business session a delicious repast was served by the hostesses of the day, Mrs. Elia Germolus and Mrs. Ione Hanson. Both refreshments and table decorations were in white and green and carried out the St. Patrick theme.

The next regular meeting will be the first of April in the Memorial Building at two o'clock. Mrs. Pauline Hess and Mrs. Abigail Herr will act as co-hostesses. This will be held one week earlier than usual because on April 5 there will be a celebration of the birth-

Local Man Sees Championship for His Pet Terrier

Satisfaction was expressed this week by "Skip" Hathaway, popular manager at the Brooks Motor Company, local Ford distributor, as he revealed that a Kerry Blue terrier, related to his prize pet, had recently been adjudged the best dog of all classes at a large show.

Hathaway's hobby is caring for "Moirs," his Kerry Blue terrier. Although she is only four and one half months old the dog is already showing many signs of championship calibre, he boasts.

An unusual breed, this terrier is coal black when a puppy and gradually turns blue as it gets older, it is said. Almost extinct at the beginning of this century, they were bred only in County Kerry, Ireland, for some time before they made their appearance in this country.

A "Trafficcounter" has been devised to count automatically all vehicles passing a strip laid on the road and records the total on tape once every hour.

DEMONSTRATE RESCUE WORK

After having ably demonstrated their ability last Sunday these members of the Albany Fire Department's inhalator squad are shown here in a demonstration of their work. All are trained in the latest methods of artificial respiration and use of the respiratory equipment and possess Red Cross certificates testifying as to their knowledge. Under the direction of Fire Chief Carl Ahlgren (inset) the men in the photo are, left to right: Hoseman Donald Chapman, Assistant Chief John Riley, Hoseman Gerald Browne and Captains Fred Pimental and Les Varni. The "victim," barely visible behind the mask is Donald Browne, young son of the fireman.

SUPREME COURT POINTS THE WAY

By a recent decision the United States Supreme Court declared that municipalities do have the right to regulate house-to-house salesmen of national firms by means of "nuisance" ordinances. The august body ruled that it had no jurisdiction in the case of a salesman convicted of a misdemeanor in Green River, Wyoming, for solicitation at a private residence without an invitation, thus in effect sanctioning the ordinance of that city.

Far reaching in its possible effect, this ruling is already causing "big house-to-house sellers like Fuller Brush, Real Silk Hosiery, Jewel Tea, Singer Sewing Machine, to nurse real headaches," the March 22 issue of "Time" discloses.

Locally it may be remembered that some thought was given not long ago to the licensing of these canvassers. The idea was discarded, however, on the advice that such action would interfere with interstate commerce and be an unreasonable exercise of police power. By this latest authentic decision any city may use discretionary legislation toward such regulation.

A similar step might be taken toward the placing of a license fee on out-of-town commercial delivery trucks. It is realized that this would necessarily have to include local operators in its provisions to keep from being discriminatory, but the revenue and benefits, it is pointed out, that would accrue from such action would more than make up for the slight additional cost to local business men.

For instance, "fly-by-night" operators would have to establish themselves as responsible persons under a proper ordinance of this kind, preventing the invasion of irresponsible peddlers of unsatisfactory goods.

The additional fee that a local business man would pay under this law would go into the city treasury and bring about a corresponding reduction in his other taxes. Protection would be given the local taxpayer against non-taxpayers who have previously been allowed to operate nearly as they chose in Albany.

CIRCLE PLANS FALL BAZAAR

Following the luncheon given by Mrs. Ray Blackwell, 905 Curtis Street, for members of the Thousand Oaks Sewing Circle last week, plans were discussed and articles made for their bazaar which is to take place some time in October.

Among those present were Mrs. Roberta Vogel, Mrs. Gertrude Bell, Mrs. Ida Holt, Mrs. Laura Brookcr, Mrs. Betty Laird, Mrs. Edna Goldman, Mrs. Dorothy Ott, Mrs. Helen Ferguson, Mrs. Bertha Langille, Mrs. Letitia Lightbody and Mrs. Jessie Crane.

The group is also planning a card party for April 9 at the Masonic Temple on Solano and Colusa Avenues. Score cards will cost 35 cents and many desirable awards will be given holders of the high scores. It is expected that 400 persons will attend. Mrs. Jessie Crane is to be in charge. Proceeds will be used for Eastern Star charitable work.

This Month Marks Second Anniversary of Theater

Definite Part in City's Growth Can Be Credited to Participation of Theater's Management

The completion of two years of active participation in the growth of the city and a definite contribution toward the entertainment of Albany residents is being marked this month by an unusual program of features at the Albany Theatre, a conversation with Neil Crowley, popular manager, reveals.

"More and more the theater is endeavoring to bring to the people of this district a truly metropolitan share of the fine offerings of Hollywood," Crowley explained. "The bigger and better films which are so prevalent this month on our program are but indications of the many celluloid treats that will soon be on display here."

Since assuming management about a year ago, Crowley has made himself known and liked, has become a member of most of the organizations of the city and has joined in many worthwhile efforts. The theater has always been available for any organization or group that wanted to put on a theater party or special show and the full resources of the amusement place have been repeatedly placed at the services of such civic groups.

OPENS IN 1935

Opened in March of 1935 in the building which previously had housed a dance hall and a store, the theater obviated the necessity of Albany people having to go out of town to attend a show.

The new business was opened under the direction of William Brock, a resident of this city who is now employed by the Navy Department. During his year at the local cinema, Brock increased the attendance at the place by showing first class features at reasonable prices and acquainting his patrons with the best convenience of having a theater in their midst.

Since Crowley has assumed charge, the theater has increasingly shown a desire to take part in the recreational and club activity of the city. A list of the groups which have held theater parties includes the parent-teacher associations, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Sea Scouts, various church organizations, and many others.

At various times, gala midnight shows have been held for a number of reasons. These have included benefit performances and outright "good time" affairs.

IS REAL ASSET

Besides offering local fans the best in motion pictures, the Albany Theatre should be looked on as an asset to the city inasmuch as it draws many outside persons to the city, brings additional revenue to local businesses and spreads the knowledge of the completeness or residence here.

It provides a large payroll, a portion of which is spent with local merchants, and numbers several local employees on its staff of courteous attendants.

It is but fitting, then, that the people of this community recognize the part that the Albany Theatre has played in the rapid development of the last two years and to make their patronage a symbol of that appreciation. May the next two years of its existence be as profitable and as pleasurable to this city as has the past.

NEIL CROWLEY

Marin P.-T. A. Hears Lecture By H. O. Welty

"Mexico," the land of manana where he has sojourned from time to time, was the topic of an address made by H. O. Welty, principal of Oakland Technical High School at the March meeting of the Marin Parent-Teacher Association held last Tuesday in the school auditorium.

The guest speaker was introduced by Dr. John Franklin West, superintendent of Albany Schools, with whom he was at one time associated at the State Teachers' College.

Preceding his speech, the Marin School Glee Club, under the direction of Miss Mildred McCann and Mrs. Pauline Cruickshank offered several Mexican songs including "La Cucaracha." At the conclusion of the program Mrs. D. C. Atwater, chairman of the nominating committee, presented the following list of officers for the ensuing year: President Mrs. E. L. Stine; first vice president Mrs. G. F. Young; second vice president, Mrs. A. Severine; recording secretary, Mrs. Edwin Litsinger; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Harold Burlingame; financial secretary Mrs. Karl Zieme; treasurer, Mrs. Dave L. Hofer; auditor, Mrs. David Thompson; historian, Mrs. Pauline Cruickshank; and parliamentarian, Mrs. D. C. Atwater.

There being no further nominations, these officers were duly elected. The nominating committee consisted of Mrs. D. C. Atwater, Mrs. Edwin Litsinger, Mrs. S. C. Rector, Mrs. J. R. Timmers and Allen Keim.

It was announced that the picture for attendance was won by the high fourth grade of Miss P. E. Bruce.

Due respect was accorded St. Patrick by the tea hostesses, Mrs. Roy Lincer and Mrs. J. Duncan. Table decorations and refreshments were in keeping with the old time tradition of Erin.

Store's Name Explained by New Grocers

Expressing the hope that the rough and ready name of their place of business will not frighten away patrons, the present owners of the Wild West Market at 625 San Pablo Avenue, just north of Portland Avenue, are extending an invitation to the people of Albany to visit their modern store.

Belying the rather intriguing name of their store, both owners, Clyde Martz and Floyd McFaddin, are both mild mannered and exceptionally courteous business men.

The title of the grocery was applied, they relate, by the original owner, a number of years ago. This party, a veteran of the Ninety First Division, the West's contribution to the big conflict in 1917, selected that name for his store.

Since both Martz and McFaddin are both westerners and of old pioneer stock, they have seen fit to continue their place of business as the Wild West Market. Comparatively new in the community, these men are welcoming an increasing number of their neighbors who like to shop at this unique store.

Miss Emily Turner, a member of the faculty at Marin School, is vacationing in Carmel.

Demand Creates Latest Service

Popular demand, claims the owner of the Westbrae Cleaners, has created the necessity of a delivery service.

"To serve the public," he says, "I have inaugurated a new 'fair' system; fair to you and fair to me."

Explaining, he said that this well known cleaning establishment at 1309 Gilman Street would provide this service, continuing its same policy of quality cleaning as in the past, at a slight additional cost to the patrons per order.

The Westbrae Cleaners, he reminded, has always maintained its policy of high quality work at extraordinarily reasonable prices. He invites comparison with other services.

Dispel Fears For School Safety

"Citizens and parents of Albany have no fear of a New London as disaster in Albany schools," Carl Ahlgren reports. "We have no personal duty," say the "and with all the basements tilted, there is no chance for explosion of gas fumes and a re-plosion."

However, there is no reason for residences of Albany to City Engineer Harry D. Addleman, 967 Ventura last Sunday, where three people overcame by gas fumes.

A museum designed especially for children will be built in Brooklyn.

WE KNOW HOW DANGEROUS A BLOW-OUT CAN BE!

... that's why we swear by this life-saving Goodrich Tire

ARE your tires safe? Do you realize what havoc one blow-out can play with life, limb, car and pocketbook? Decide now whether it isn't wiser to come in today and let us put a set of Goodrich Safety Silvertowns on your car. No other tire in the world can give you the priceless protection of the Life-Saver Golden Ply, a layer of special rubber and full-floating cords, scientifically treated to resist the terrific blowout-causing heat generated inside all tires by today's high speeds. You're protected because rubber and fabric don't separate. Dangerous heat blisters don't get a start inside the tire. And when you prevent the blister, you prevent the high-speed blow-out.

And this is remarkable—in spite of the fact that Goodrich spent thousands of dollars to develop this life-saving invention, the Silvertown does not cost you a cent more. In fact, Silvertowns cost even less than other super-quality tires! Keep danger a stranger. See us about a set of Golden Ply Silvertowns today.

The Rounder

Hello again, my friends:

Am more than glad to be back among you again after an enforced absence of several months.

Jumping right into the material which has come my way, will first take up the matter of the Fifth Annual Smoker held by the Albany Post of the American Legion last Friday p. m.

Here's a hand to that organization for putting on one of the most pretentious and best shows of the kind that has ever been my good luck to witness. It was swell, fellows.

A few Smoker rings: Must congratulate C. N. Lavers, Clarence Finn, Gerald Murphy, Harry Doyle and those other local lights who were fortunate in the distribution of fine gifts which were on hand. . . . Sorry that Mayor O. C. Yenne didn't get his request when he asked for a Texas Tommy dance number. . . . Ed Ryken will have to be more careful about making bets with Milo Mallory about rose-throwing performers. . . . Bill Green's public address system worked very nicely, I thought. . . . Thought my eyes were deceiving me when I saw what seemed to be Fire Chief Carl Ahlgren wearing a Legion cap with Berkeley Post's insignia on it. Was relieved to learn that this was his twin brother, Arthur, of Berkeley. . . . Can't pass up the chance to thank the newshawk whose seat I managed to secure during the intermission. It was a break after standing up during the first half of the show. . . . L. C. Fox, cashier at Murphy's was of the many who got a view of the entire affair from the east wall of the building. . . . My personal nomination for the cleverest act: The magician fellow, sponsored by the Albany Auto Sales. . . .

To my unknown (?) friend, Tugboat Charlie, who sent me quite a witty report on a coming social event in this town. Hope that your predictions do come true about the romance between the couple you have selected to act as best man for. Good luck to your arrangements. Hope, however, that the thing can be taken care of without possibility of the catastrophe which you seem to be worrying about!

And am I glad! Spring is really here, according to an unofficial report of Sgt. Charles Hardie who has included "Pituit Peak" (with apologies to Abe) on his nocturnal rounds.

His sixth anniversary in business is being celebrated this week-end, Joe Villa, local grocer and owner of Villa's Market, has informed me. That he has been successful in every way in pleasing his many patrons, is evidence of this merchant's willingness to offer his patrons the best at all times.

Don't forget to send the younger kiddies to the big free show at the Albany Theatre tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Sponsored jointly by Villa and the theater, it will provide a swell time for the youngsters, with Easter eggs and everything.

A rumor was going the rounds last Sunday that one of our unattached city officials had forsown bachelorhood and was married. Investigation, however, has failed to unearth any proof of the tale. Therefore, no name, but plenty of hints if you'll study them.

The subject of matrimony brings up the approaching wedding night of Miss Virginia Morris and Fred Walter of this city. Fred's the Commander of the local Hive of Macabees and is well known. The bride-to-be is a former student of the Albany High. Good luck, and may the bark of matrimony sail a true course on smooth seas for you both.

A special bouquet to Miss Virginia Kennedy at the Albany Theatre for the completion of two years' employment there.

Despite the oft repeated poetic utterances about the beauties of spring showers, they're getting to be rather unpopular with most of us who have to venture out in them. It's practically impossible to enjoy the pattering rain drops when your feet are wet and you nose is too.

The swellest display of Easter bunnies I've ever seen are apparent at several stores of this city right now. Have you taken little Rollo and Genevieve to view them yet? Suggest stops: Opal's, Repp's Olsen's, Variety Store,

Claim Bills Would Peril Milk Supply

Local city and county health authorities throughout the state are calling public attention to Assembly bills 50 and 77 now before the California Legislature.

These bills are sponsored, they assert, by raw producers and other dairymen who have experienced difficulty in marketing their milk in some of the larger cities, because of the high standards required—tuberculin tested cows, high-scoring dairies, low bacteria counts, and high nutrient solids content.

The purpose of both bills is to eliminate these local health departments and place milk inspection under the State Department of Agriculture at Sacramento. In this manner, it is charged, a state-wide standard would be set up whereby milk would be shipped from any place in California; of a quality low enough to apply to the entire state.

Consumers of milk will doubtless be interested because of the danger of removing the local safeguards afforded by a local efficient system of inspection in effect at this time, as evidenced by the absence of milk-borne epidemics and reduced infant mortality.

Dr. George Parrish, Health Officer, Los Angeles, states: "We should bring great pressure to bear on our assemblymen to see the fallacy of the claims of these men who place a dollar and filth in front of a life and cleanliness."

Dr. J. C. Geiger, Health Officer, San Francisco believes "the passage of these bills would be a public health tragedy."

Dr. I. O. Church, Alameda County Health Officer, concludes "It's incredible that such legislation would be proposed in this state, because it would wipe out that efficient work done by health departments over many years."

Members of the Ladies Bible Class of the M. E. Community Church met at the home of Mrs. Florence Sharpe on Garfield Avenue last Thursday afternoon. The time was spent studying the New Testament.

Bargain Spot, Music and Dry Goods Shop, Douglas', and other places.

Sincere hopes for a clear, sunny Easter morning are expressed herewith by this writer to those in charge of the Sunrise Services. We usually do have clear weather on this occasion, let's hope that this Sunday proves no exception.

Uncovering the following suggestion in the Recreation Department's current quest for a theme song for Albany:

(To be sung to "The Pagan Love Song")

Come with me to Albany,
Where the climate is benign;
And we'll spend each hour,
Among the people that are fine.
Their friendship, dear, is calling,
To choose our home in time.
And live out here in Albany
And leave our cares behind.
Notice: (I disclaim all responsibility for this creation.)

The traffic duties of Officer Frank Davis at the corner of Solano and San Pablo, have endeared him to the many little tots who safely cross each day. Imagine his surprise, then, the other day when a tiny miss slipped over in back of him and implanted a forceful kick on his leg. She just smiled at him, then hurried off to school while he stood there wondering about this display of affection.

A coincident took place recently which didn't receive mention. A car was stolen from in front of Chief Glavinovich's home and found later in El Cerrito. On the machine at that time was the rear license plate of Carl Giblein, Jr., whose car had been parked in front of the home of Officer John Viarengo. Crooks apparently have no respect for the law whatsoever.

Until next time,

Check-up on Signals

A survey was recently made by Councilman V. T. Hanahan (center) and Councilman George Batchelder (right), here shown with W. Smith, electrician, as they investigated to discover if the old control box could be used to operate the traffic signals according to the State Vehicle Act as has been ordered. They found out that this was an impossibility and that a new mechanism would have to be installed.

NEW MEMBERS ARE INITIATED

The membership of the Thousand Oaks Chapter of Jobs Daughters was enlarged by the addition of five new members at the last meeting. At the regular semi-monthly meeting held recently at the Thousand Oaks Temple, Miss Carol Duttie and Miss Justice Cheshire was admitted to the group.

When the local branch exemplified their rituals at the Francis K. Shattuck Order of Masons, Miss Jane Abrahamson, Miss Margaret Morrian and Miss Charlotte Monos were initiated.

Miss Georgia Barr, worthy queen, announced that the recent food sale held at Griegers' market was a pronounced success. Proceeds totaling $17.00 were realized and will revert to the general fund of the Bethel.

Big Free Show Is Promised to Local Children

Even if it does rain tomorrow morning, Albany boys and girls of grammar school age will have an enjoyable pre-Easter entertainment.

This was promised by Neil Crowley, manager of the Albany Theatre, as he disclosed plans for the big free show tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock, to be given jointly by the theater and Villa's Market.

The City Council has voted the sum of $70 to be used by the recreation department for the purchase of Easter eggs, which means that the kiddies will have plenty of delicious confections at that time. These will be distributed as the children leave the show, Crowley said.

"The Rainmakers" with Wheeler and Woolsey will be the star attraction of the program, which includes a Betty Boop cartoon, a popular Screen Song, a second cartoon, and other features.
